1 –(Page 1) Resurrection of the Heaven and Earth

In this school, we would not reject any type of religion. We would hail to the earth and we would welcome everybody for we are all impotent, and He is the only one who guided us to the earth. He expects us because we are the superior of the creatures, however we are feeling the lowest form of life, and regarding the fact that we are capable, having the power of intellect as well as intelligence, such life is not sufficient for us. we must move towards Him who elevated us from the lowest creature to the most beautiful creature in the universe. We must worship Him, think out to grow and create greatness. Among the powers which are undoubtedly superior, we are the capable creatures after God. Oh brothers! Live a life correspond your dignity.

Page 2 – we must synchronize our soul, body and mind to reach such rank for flying over the horizons, lengths and widths of the galaxies. We can only reach the pure and noble truth with helping each other. As I mentioned above, we must create a revolution inside us. through synchronizing we would fly, and reach the apex, and the light. In the lightness at the peak of the existence we would reach the perdition where the perfection of existence lies in. We must fly powerfully and unanimously to become a unified light. I can understand such power in the universe and I would try my best to achieve a power for being flowed in the words of universe. I would be a particle of you to achieve the grandness and power.

Page 3 – When we unite, and greet the words on previous pages and grow, we must not be overbearing and surrender ourselves to the pastor to protect us. Our evolution is of earthly type, and we have destructed the earth since five Billion and five hundred Million years ago, and have seen ourselves ruin us and the earth. Each day, earthly colors push us more than our heavenly love and make distance between us and the existence and lights. We have been lost in an ethereal world, become more and more despaired. We have gone towards darkness through today's advanced science we achieve a treasure which rose from our disbeliefs. The treasure becomes more and more greater than our spirituality. We are not aware of what we are doing: we are extracting the lowest things from the lowest parts of the earth, and using them as ornaments, and truly we are losing ourselves. We forget the fact that we are the only worshipped, loved one and beautiful offspring of God. We are self-preoccupied.

God's Divinity

For your greatness, you the One who descended Torah, the Bible, Zabur, Forqan, Kahi'as, Taha, Yā sīn, the Holy Quran, you are protecting me, I would ask you to reach you. Empower me with the truth of saints, and make me their follower.

And we have cleansed ourselves; we can only help ourselves. They told us not to leave the light, otherwise I would send someone to you who would not recognize me nor you. Now we need each one of you, the beautiful, the ugly ones, and companions of our earthly and ethereal bodies to make known ourselves to ourselves, through which we can achieve the promised beautiful life. Oh brothers! Our heaven is even possible in our ethereal bodies. Why have we preoccupied ourselves, and have not deserted our selfishness which is absurd? On the earth like heaven, as it is destined, we must have a heaven and cleanse ourselves and purify our souls from bodily dependencies. We must live with our holdings, and keep our distance from them, for our container has limited capacity. We must grow and live each day more beautiful than yesterday. We do not wait for the heaven, because we step into our own heavens. We would enjoy the blessings of God, the great. Let our souls and hearts unite and say the words of truth from the deepest part of our hearts. We must worship God and thank God who has bestowed his powers to us for a better life. Look at yourself from the highest part of life and see the most beautiful views and invite the pure odor of existence to breathe. Touch everything you possess and whatever you will have. Page 6 – For you eminent and high-ranking, let your ears be free from servitude, and connect to the lovely and sweet tune of the universe to make your life more beautiful and vaster. We need your perspective to get to your peak of love and compassion and reach your beauty. This eternal love will dwell in you; temptations of earthly and heavenly existence will be drawn on your pure and cleansed hearts and will guide you to higher ranks. There will be secrets in each color and in each tune. You must be acquainted with the spirit of colors, tunes and music instruments for understanding the soberness and drunkenness. Wherever love dwells, you will be filled up with existence and you will possess the right and essence of being. Each drop of essence will be sent out of beautiful colors, clearness and transparency to free you from the dependency of your soul to your body. Everybody who becomes familiar with his inner and outer existential colors, would never take steps towards ghosts and shadows and would never lose his own inner music, and through synchronizing your inner music with your body and soul you can reach that loquence which purifies your soul, and you can make your companions drunk. Ecstasy is a meeting of truth; an eternal truth which is certain but with praying and contemplation.

Page 8 – we would reach conclusions which have no earthly discussions and would dwell in your blood's heritage; a place where your soul dwells in. flowing blood in your body, your soul would reach a tune which would make earthly things drunk. Your soul will fly and leave ethereal body. With each beat, a sound and a tune will be created. You only need to get closer to yourself and you must not fill up your inner emptiness with exterior ornaments and spiritless colors. Because in such emptiness there would be nothing except love, spirituality, drunkenness and honesty. You must flow for other people would drink a sip of divine compassion dwelling in you.

Page 9 – You must become acquainted with hidden layers inside you which cannot be seen by your earthly eyes. However, they possess specific functions, and you will experience them in a way that in my opinion, even earthly scholars and scientists cannot imagine them. They have a speed more than light. You have the potential to fly and displacement. You are familiar with the word "Tay Al-Arz". You can even pass the Ozone layer which in my viewpoint is considered as one of the most specific things in the world, and you can acquire supernatural awareness through contemplation. Human being possesses unique powers. We are not limited like other creatures such as Jinns. If a substance or a Jinn passes earthly space or Ozone layer, it would clash with shooting stars. Hence, we must apply divine grace and characteristics which dwell in us in its best manner, and must place ourselves in the galaxy in a mystical and contemplative manner.

Page 10 – And we must apply the beauties of astronomy for expanding our vision, and peacefully develop our energies and move towards the truth which is not limited by God. We can move towards the apex of humanity as well as beauty. With possessing special and unique powers, we can reach a rank which is suited for us, the human beings. By observing superior humans, we must make our days better and better. My tongue is incapable of expressing some experiences, and I cannot express the sweetness and power of such inner powers. However, we can be faster than any fast and more powerful than any power as well as being more beautiful than any beauty which is the means for worshipping. We possess such powers and we have to apply them fully and completely to become satisfied inside.

Page 11 – In my opinion, we must move beyond all beauties and transform to the energy while reaching the apex of the matter. Then, we must convert our energies to light for becoming eligible for learning our lessons. Directly or indirectly, human beings become qualified for having unexpected capabilities which cannot be even observed. And for a person who has no religion such as the beautiful religion of Islam, they would not be understandable. We would welcome them more than before, for we have a culture or civilization which we love. We can fly and unanimously move towards the truth. Holy Quran is our sacred and religious text, and all people can use it and invite themselves to higher ranks and understand divine grace, and ask God, himself to embrace them.

Page 12 – In such way when you arrange and regulate your discourse, God will use His grandness and give your wisdom's flowers such a sweet odor, in a way that who is within your reach, he or she would enjoy the grace through contemplation and prayers. Because such odor is not an earthly one. It would invite you to drunkenness, and even your ethereal body would not be surrendered to the earth gravity or a few moments, and in such circumstance, the apex of Islamic sciences would glitter and embrace you and the divine odor will soothe your pains, and would treat your ignorance, negligence and wandering. Then it would give you the wisdom of mysticism and enlightenment and through this the cups of love for God lovers will be filled up.

Page 13 – Those brothers who love to achieve divine love and sweetness and be purified in the waterfall of wisdom must observe several points. We must contemplate more on our earthly relations. No one should be annoyed by us. We must not break their hearts. We must elevate our relationships with our earthly brothers, and we must keep up with everyone around us with every job position or way of living to respect them thoroughly. In this way, we can achieve ethical characteristics proper for us, and provide proper ground for making supernatural connections which have specific and unique graces. We must decorate ourselves with knowledge and wisdom to reach the top rank of spiritual idealism.

Page 14 – Then you can be equipped with conditions for working with your inner powers, and your thoughts would be filled up with powers beyond earthly knowledge. You can move three times faster than the light speed, cause you preserved your inner personalities, and through the power of mind you can move, and can bring about the message of love and light for others; your power will be guided towards inner energies, but it is noteworthy to mention that wherever attracts you and you dwells them, the superior, inner and outer powers would not help you.

Page 15 – Then it would be better to experience each event once and continue to move towards the target for the cycle of time and space provides you with that power. Then you will reach the inexistence at the top rank of existence. Hidden and hands and non-organic forces will help us because you are a powerful and thoughtful human, and you will thoroughly apply all powers bestowed to you.

Page 16 – You dwells in the autumn of your existence and then will be guided towards your winter, and at the apex of your inexistence you will achieve a type of perfection, where your inner spring would blossom and you will reach your true inner self. That's where you refer to your isolation and tunes and enjoy your colorful self. There stars will start to dance with your earthly light power; they will strat to try to guide you towards the heavens. Everyone wants to have you for himself for elevating their selves through your spiritual powers.

As I mentioned previously, when you start to move in the length and width of the galaxy, you will witness black holes, which are named by the modern scientists as "Great Swallowers". Nothing can pass through them, and even light will be annihilated in them. However, while passing through them, we are equipped with our inner awareness, we can pass them easily and see ourselves drunk again. Everything is possible for human.

Page 17 – Earthly sciences are not complete, and are growing each day. As they say, our world is made up of three dimensions. Today, they say that it is probable that the world has more dimensions. But we believe that the universe consists of seven dimensions. Each dimension has its own time. With each layer of ourselves we can move with the same speed. Today's sciences do not recognize speeds more than light speed. However, human being possesses seven dimensions, and in each dimension, he can move in one dimension, and there is a specific speed for the same dimension. Our world is absolutely following specific rules and principles. You can use your powers in each dimension. For people who love, it is not difficult to reach the knowledge of their God. If they do not know the power which is called God, they would be annihilated. As I previously mentioned, considering black holes, the universe was created out of an explosion.

Page 18 – And the existence has been formed by the will of God, and when Raphael blows in his trumpet, and resurrection comes into existence, and time is stopped, and all cycles of existence cease to move, there the black holes would start to swallow everything as it is mentioned in imperfect contemporary sciences. They would annihilate their own existence and as mentioned above, light, energy, matter and everything else would not be able to survive. The only thing passes through the black holes, is the awareness of people who has grown and reached the truth.

Page 19 – It is noteworthy to mention that the starting point is from the earth itself due to the existence of Bermuda Triangle in Atlantic Ocean. Each level is annihilated in its own level. Then the universe becomes a super power universe. It is noteworthy to mention that there will be no living creature in the universe except us. Spacecraft reaches the earth from other dimensions means the future comes to earth for probing into its past and now time zones. We, ourselves, by a dimension other than our physical body which is created by ecstasy would be converted to the awareness, and we must move with our fifth dimension. There is no word to explain the fifth layer of awareness. All of your dimensions are under your order and control and it is enough only to let them fly.

Page 20 – While flying, you need no earthly tool, but you should only leave your ethereal body in a secure place for leaving it a few moments. Then your powers must be elevated and someone else must guide and direct you, who must be compassionate like a good friend who leads you not to go a wrong way, and would clarify everything for you. That person would even help your earthly body, and would never let anybody get close your body, including organic or non-organic creatures. In this case, he would alarm you, but you are yourself responsible for it. Sometimes, it has been observed that a danger is threatening someone, and his ethereal body is unable to face it. However, it is better to listen to his guides. If we like not to have issues or problems with our ethereal and earthly body, you should not be imprisoned by your passions, desires or egos. It can lead you lose your positive energy lines.

Page 21 – In some levels, negative energies are like sands which are not countable. You must pass through difficulties and particles. However, such work is easy for people who observe principles and difficult for people who do not have any guru or master and possesses low level of spiritual rank. You must measure yourself based on a kind of force which guides you, then you would enter inaccessible statuses and pass through negative energies and particles to reach a desert where you possess a high-level spiritual energy, or add up logical and reasonable logics. Through wisdom, you can add to your logic and reasonability, for those articles do not harm you. You must equip your eyes for things which are pleasant to your ethereal body, but are worthless for your spirit. You must have two eyelids and two humps while you are hungry and thirsty.

Page 22 – Do not drink up yourself with things which are not truth. You must take step carefully. We see our usual eye, however, we must refer to our heart's eye, means the eyelid we close on our eye but we are still capable of seeing because as I told you we possess numerous powers and would surrender ourselves to the present time guides and would trust in our heart's eye. Then we must be capable of true understanding to see where the heart's eye is closer to us and where our head's eye is near us. we should know how to open and close them for our spiritual journey. While it is hard to define the path, but we should say that there is delicacy in this way which cannot be talked. As they said, fear is the brother of death. But do not be afraid of it. But do not waste this divine grace for you are capable of having everything you want. But again, I must say that you must rely on a compassionate master or some other forces. Don't be worry. Take your journey into his vast and limitless valley, pass the deserts, do not let anything hinders you from making progress. Do not be afraid of anything cause you have God who is all-potent. You can rely on Him and take a trip peacefully for your eyes penetrate into your inner secrets. Then your heart's eye would understand things which are not understandable for your head's eye. This is a time when you can pass that deceitful desert.

Page 24 – Now you possess a power, through which you can do duties just for the sake of God's satisfaction, which are determined by God, himself. You should not hesitate for attracting God's attention, and must use powers bestowed upon you. For human beings who have made connections with negative forces unintentionally and are not aware of them, and receive short-term pleasure in first steps from those negative forces which guide them towards darkness. The only thing which would help these people is isolation. No one would tolerate them more than three weeks. Then they would understand that they possess negative forces. If God's grace embraces them, hope would penetrate in their hearts.

Page 25 – You invite them to contemplation and prayer. You would help them get acquainted with the beauties of ecstasy. You would introduce them with Holy Quran which is the only savior of people. Quran would free them from anything which is negative. While the first steps are difficult, but by relying on the superior power, God, everything would be possible. This is where you work only by the God's satisfaction. More doors will be open to your insight and knowledge and you can move with your high level layers of your body. It is noteworthy to mention that as you take the spiritual journey, and add up to your ecstasy and become more powerful than yesterday, you must take actions for your companions on the earth as an aid. You must help people as you were helped.

Page 26 – You are responsible to prove the superiority of a human being to himself and free them from negative forces and Jinn. Never recognize any force more powerful than human being, himself. If human being recognizes his inner powers – you will recognize these powers inside you after passing these phases . you must always be surrendered to Him and help the poor. You must never beg for money because such power was bestowed upon you to recognize the true selves of human beings; to prove the negative forces that no power is beyond God's power. You must always be a lantern for whom who have been lost in darkness and lost themselves in negative and dark energies. Now, I must alarm you again that do not sink in a power which are nothing but humanly for pursuing your spiritual path. Then you would enter heavier ecstasies and God's grace would flow towards you because you have paid attention to God's will, and move forward. Hence, you are allowed to continue your spiritual journey.

This world which is not their intention to see or feel that they are not able to see or feel it, but they do not believe themselves or are despaired and disappointed. One must know that disappointment is the highest level of calamity.

End of Golden Sentences:

Now you have acquired the secrets of things which have been examined by the modern science with all of its tools and instruments to get into astronomy and be aware of the greatness of this universe, however, they did not have the capability or ability to acquire it. Golden sentences like the levels of existence and universe are divided into sixteen levels or floors. The first floor is our world or cosmos which is called the earth. The heaven is the prominence of each floor. All of these sixteen floors consists of thick strings. Except the first and fourteenth floors, all other floors consist of nine dimensions. For passing each level, we must pass nine dimensions of it to enter another level or floor.

Page 28 – Now you have a power, through which you must move cautiously, become acquainted with your true self, to know whether you are made up from water, fire, wind or earth to put yourself in situations which are destined for you because the spirit is connected to the earthly body and is ruled by it. So your body, mind and spirit must be synchronized for not being astray. You must be careful and recognize your true self because when you are situated in the spiritual path, your praying shall be attractive and it is probable your curses be attracted too. So never use cures and let anybody get so close to you that mislead you and annoy you. Even sighing is dangerous for these types of human beings. So define your friendship zone and limitations with your friends. Make a steel-made paradigm for yourself to move based on it.

Page 29 – In my opinion, each individual must elevate himself to understand others. Otherwise, you cannot continue your spiritual path and follow the prophets, etc. who are our models. You must keep in mind that we have limited powers; hence take steps slowly and continuously. Every prayers for people who are drowned in darkness and destruction, will make you more powerful. Remember that you are now greater than people who have preoccupied themselves with their everyday life and ordinary tasks.
